Sunday June 16 Day -1 The Road Less Traveled

When I saw the rally book Jeff put together for this event, I emailed Lisa and asked if it was too late to resign as scribe and enter as a rider. Of course, I knew it was too late, but wow...this rally should be so much fun!

The theme of 2019 IBR is "The Road Less Traveled". Jeff based it on a line from Robert Frost's famous poem "The Road Not Taken". While researching the poem, I found that Frost wrote it as a joke and was surprised when the public saw it as a serious work. According to an article by Kathrine Robinson, Frost wrote "The Road Not Taken" in 1916 as a joke for his friend and fellow poet, Edward Thomas.

When the two of them would go on walks together, Edward frequently had trouble deciding which path to choose. Later, if the path did not prove to lead where he expected, Edward would lament having not taking the one not chosen, as it might have been better. Frost's thoughts on this indecision are reflected in the poem.

All the rally riders will face similar choices tonight, choices of which road less traveled is the best one to take. And some riders may find themselves haunted by the choices not made, much as Frost's good friend Edward, as they work their way through the bonus listings in the rally packet.

Perhaps, during the next 11+ days, many of these riders will be surprised how their perspective of what Frost meant by this poem may change.

The Road Not Taken

by Robert Frost
Two roads diverged in a yellow wood,
And sorry I could not travel both
And be one traveler, long I stood
And looked down one as far as I could
To where it bent in the undergrowth;

Then took the other, as just as fair, And having perhaps the better claim, Because it was grassy and wanted wear; Though as for that the passing there Had worn them really about the same,

And both that morning equally lay In leaves no step had trodden black. Oh, I kept the first for another day! Yet knowing how way leads on to way, I doubted if I should ever come back.

I shall be telling this with a sigh Somewhere ages and ages hence: Two roads diverged in a wood, and I— I took the one less traveled by, And that has made all the difference. Riders who have completed check in and received their rally packets at the IBR Start Banquet tonight:

The rider meeting included a s number of admonitions from rally architect Jeff Earls. Riders must claim all bonuses on the bonus claim sheets, including tracking, call-in, and rest bonuses. There will be 3 call-in bonuses over the course of the rally, each with a 12 hour window, but no grace period. Riders will have 3 minutes to provide their name, rider number, the last bonus collected, the current location, and the next planned bonus.

Riders may rest anytime they need to, but there will be 3 rest bonus opportunities over the course of the next 11days where riders will be able to collect points for being off their bike and resting. Each of the 3 will be a 4 hour documented stop, at a minimum. However riders will be able to collect even more points for staying up to 8 hours. No other bonus may be claimed during the rest bonus, not even a call-in bonus.

Riders will have a 2 hour window at the checkpoints to check in with rally staff. Checkpoint 1 will open at 8:00 p.m. on the 20th. Penalty points, at the rate of 10 points per minute, will start to accrue at 1 second after 8:00:00 p.m. Riders who fail to stop the clock by 10:00 p.m. will not be considered a rally finisher. Riders may present themselves for scoring at 5:00 p.m.

More than a few attendees were heard commenting on how great the food was at the banquet. Lisa Landry and the Marriott staff outdid themselves.

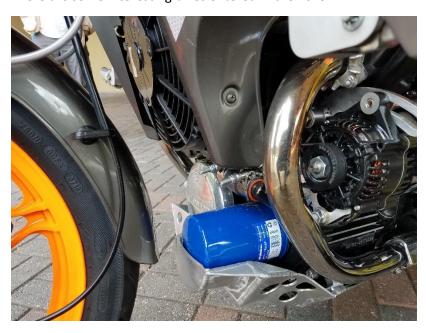

Thankfully, the riders were done with a great dining experience, because judging for the looks on the rider's faces in the room as Jeff highlighted some critical information regarding the rally packs, swallowing or just trying to eat while one's jaw was on the floor may have been difficult after the rally packs were opened.

The riders have the bonus information, however, Jeff and the Rallymaster want the riders to carefully read the info and directions listed for each bonus. To help make this happen, the GPS coordinates provided in electronic form are close enough to the bonus locations for general routing, but with few exceptions, the coordinates are not at the exact bonus location. Riders will need to read each bonus description to determine both the directions for the waypoint and the requirements to collect the bonus.

Past rallies have provided bonus opportunities in a variety of locations, including a lot of destinations deep in the confines of mega metro areas like New York or Los Angeles. However, in a rally centered around roads less traveled, if you think placing most of the bonus locations inside thousands of acres of concrete and steel, hundreds of miles of multi-lane pavement carrying tens of thousands of vehicles per hour, and millions of people crammed into multi-story dwellings would seem odd, you would be correct.

These riders will certainly have opportunities to explore roads less traveled. We will post examples of potential bonus destinations in the coming days.

There are some interesting bikes entered in the 2019 IBR:

If you were not at the start, can you identify this motorcycle?

The staff made a few visits to riders after they had some time to start planning:

Owen brought paper maps...

Jewell checking the weather...

Wendy Crockett talking about hiking and being glad she brought her hiking boots...

For now, let's cover some of the news from Rally Central, as Day -1 is always an interesting time:

Unfortunately, Dan Simmonds withdrew and will not start the rally. This late decision freed up Bill Thweatt's loaner Super Tenere for Cliff Wall to ride. The service manager of Powersports of Greenville worked late on Saturday trying to get the problem with Cliff's Goldwing identified and corrected, but despite his generous and best efforts, there were unable to achieve a resolution in time. Cliff accepted Bill's kind offer of the Super Tenere and ran it through tech early this morning.

Peter Green lost his phone, no word on whether he has found it or bought a replacement.

Maura Gatensby called in Friday to report gettingsick during her ride to Greenville. She arrived late Saturday, reported feeling much better. She is checked in and planning to start the rally Monday morning.

Hammy Tan was sitting at the tech inspection table holding court for a few friends. He was apparently spinning an embellished yarn somehow involving Lisa Landry. Would you like to guess what the friends he was talking to knew, but he did not? Yep, The Rallymaster was standing directly behind him. It took him longer than you might think to realize this. By all accounts it was hilarious.

2017 gold medal top 10 finisher Ken Aman rolled up to the odometer check on his FJR and had a few moments of difficulty figuring out the trip meter reset on his electronic dashboard. Based on his performance in the previous IBR, we are sure he will put this glitch behind him and have no problem finding bonus locations on his GPS.

Veteran Jerald Anderson is back with his Suzuki GT750 two-stroke triple, but somehow missed the email with the time change for the rider meeting. He arrived 17 minutes late. The penalty for this oversight? Jerald will have to attend the missed meeting ... after the other riders depart on Monday.

A few rookies posted their satellite links to social media, causing them to have to have another meeting with rally staff to change their URL addresses. By the way, Jason Jonas' awesome Spotwalla tracking for the riders went live this evening. Go to http://ibr.wvi.com/ for the link. Please do not hit refresh every few minutes, as it may create issues for the server. It should refresh on its own and Jason will likely have some great composites of each leg available in a timely manner.

Even IBR riders ask silly questions at rider meetings. "What size will the ice cubes be?" in the cooler provided at the start. No, not going to name that rider, nor the one who asked: "How do I know what the correct time is?" Wow.

The riders all gathered for a photo across the street at the Michelin North American Headquarters. Apparently, not everyone received the memo about wearing the blue rally t-shirt for the photo.

Tom Loftus was a great friend of the rally and friend to of many of us. He started 10 IBRs and finished 7, with two of those finishes in the top 10. Unfortunately, Tom was taken from us too soon early this year.

A rally flag with his IBR number, 106, will be carried by Tom's friends Dennis Bitner and John Ferber as they ride to the group photo bonus locations. Tom's flag will be in the group photos.
